In this wild and crazy workshop, Ed will explain the art of life-casting, body-casting and mold making. This will include how to create forensically detailed replicas of the face, torso, and hands (babies, children and adults) while demonstrating his unique new techniques.

You will learn how to life cast using a special fast dry medium to make beautiful sculptures. You will even make a life casting you can take home while receiving expert tips on how to repair, color, embellish, and display your artwork, too.

Most importantly you'll also learn all about basic molding and casting materials so that at the end of the workshop you can confidently reproduce anything you desire while you learning the 'Art of Imitating Life.' Ed McCormick guarantees to show you the hidden talents you never realized you had!

Workshop Fee $10—all materials are included.
